

Contents

Key of Icons	vii
About the Authors	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
How to Use This Book	xiii
1 Early Language Development	1
Key elements in effective practice • An exciting journey • Babies' communication • A year's development at nursery – Miranda's case study • The learning journey
2 Babies Are Clever	18
Babies are thinkers • Brain development in the early years • Schemas • Babies are imitators • Babies and dads • Babies are communicators • Babies enjoy massage • Babies signing • Twins • Environments for babies • Babies love stories, songs and rhymes • Babies and books • Bookstart – modelling books with babies • Babies visit libraries • Babies are readers • Watching television, videos and DVDs • Babies are socialites • Parents as partners
3 Children's Needs: Diversity and Identity	35
Supporting children, families and communities • Social context and language learning – the role of the adult • Language learning through play • Supporting bilingualism • Code switching • Bilingualism in Wales • Supporting bilingual children in educational settings • Supporting bilingualism at home • Gender and identity • Promoting self-esteem and positive behaviour through language • Communication difficulties • Supporting special educational needs
4 Getting Young Children Talking in Early Years Settings by Carol Potter	49
Getting children to start conversations • Prompting children's talk • How we use questions • Pausing: let the silence do the work! • Changing the adult's role: from director to facilitator • Building vocabularies • Increasing the number of communication opportunities • Working with large groups • Sustained shared thinking • Story time • Working in small groups • A whole team approach • Willingness to reflect • Working with parents

5 Stories, Storytelling and Books

65

What's so important about stories? • Listening: 'If you're sitting comfortably, then I'll begin' • Understanding language • Why picture books and illustrations are important • What's so important about storytelling? • Children as storytellers • Family and heritage stories • Turning the pages together • Story and role-play • Involving artists • Story and foreign language learning • Children at the library: selecting information books

6 Rhyme, Rhythm, Sound and Song

81

First sounds • Communicating through making music • Communicating through song • Rhymes • Metalinguistic awareness • Playing with words • Early phonemic awareness • Phonics

7 Emerging Literacy: Playful Reading and Writing

98

Early Years Foundation Stage and literacy • What is emergent literacy? • How did you learn to read? • A multisensory approach to reading • Guiding readers • The writing process – what is involved in writing? • Encouraging fine motor control for writing • Involving parents in children's emergent literacy • Role-play and emergent writing • Playful literacy

Appendix 1 Theories of Language Acquisition

115

Appendix 2 Example of Long-term Planning: Early Years Unit

117

Glossary

119

References

125

Index

127