

Contents

Preface .....	9
I. DETERMINATION OF THE CONCEPT OF FAMILY .....	11
1. The Family as a Small and Basic Social Group .....	13
2. The Family as a Social Institution .....	15
3. The Family as a Social System .....	16
a. The Pattern of Attitude of Love .....	17
b. The Pattern of Complementation and Dominance .....	18
c. The Pattern of Socialization .....	21
d. The Pattern of Common Activities .....	22
4. Family Bond .....	23
5. Definition of the Family .....	32
II. THE FAMILY AS AN ENVIRONMENT OF GROWTH OR A THREAT TO THE HUMAN BEING .....	35
1. The Family as a Threat to THE Person .....	40
a. Violence in the Family .....	41
b. The Human Existence Threatened by the Legalization of Abor- tion .....	43
c. Development of the State of Loneliness .....	47
d. Weakening of Family Creativity .....	53
2. The Family as the Site of All-Sided Growth of the Human Being ..	53
a. Experience of the Value and Dignity of One's Own Person .....	54
b. Development of Creative Personality .....	57
c. Protection from Large Institutions, Organizations and Totalitar- ianism .....	60
d. The School of Fuller Humanhood .....	61
III. THE ROLE OF THE FAMILY IN THE FORMATION AND TRANS- MISSION OF CULTURE .....	63
1. The Family as an Environment for the Creative Formation of the Person .....	66
2. The Family as Forming Social Optimism .....	67

3. The Family as Introduction to the World of Symbols .....	69
4. The Family as Cultivating the Power to Understand .....	71
5. The Family as Introducing the Person to Action .....	72
6. The Family Creating its Culture and Forming the Value System and Attitude of its Members .....	73
7. The Family as a Link to National and Cultural Identity .....	77
8. Conditions for Realizing the Creative Role of the Family in the Formation of Culture .....	81
 IV. THE FAMILY: PRIVATE OR PUBLIC .....	83
1. The Family and Privacy .....	85
a. Decrease in Size of the Family and Growth in its Individual Character .....	86
b. The Attitude of the Younger Generation Towards Marriage, Family and Children .....	88
c. Characteristics of Polish Society .....	90
d. The Attitude of the State Towards the Family .....	92
2. The Family and the Public .....	95
a. Participation of the Family in Public Life Through Process of Socialization .....	95
b. Participation of the Family in Public Life Through the Professional Work of its Members .....	97
c. Engagement of the Family in Basic Sectors of Modern Society ..	99
3. The Personalistic Conception of Social Life: A Basis for connecting the Private and the Public Dimensions of the Family Life .....	101
 V. THE WOMAN AS A MEMBER OF THE FAMILY AND OF SOCIETY .....	103
1. The Woman as a Co-provider for the Family .....	104
2. Social Life Outside Home as a Need of the Woman .....	110
3. Employment as a Factor in Development of the Woman .....	114
4. Employment of the Woman as a Foundation of Her Own Social Status .....	116
5. The Home Needs the Wife-Mother .....	120
6. Towards a Harmonious Adjustment of the Marital-Family Life of the Woman with her Professional Employment .....	123
a. Change in the Evaluation of House Duties of the Wife-Mother ..	124
b. Development of the Family Infrastructure .....	126
c. More Advantageous Organization of Work for the Wife-Mother ..	127
d. Shaping a More Pro-Household Model of the Husband-Father ..	128

VI. THE FAMILY AS A LINK BETWEEN GENERATIONS .....	133
1. Close to Each Other Spatially and Spiritually .....	134
2. Intimacy but at a Distance .....	138
3. Grandparents as Agents Rearing and Educating Grandchildren .....	141
VII. THE NATURE OF RELATIONS BETWEEN THE FAMILY AND THE POLISH SOCIETY IN THE PERIOD OF SYSTEM TRANSFOR- MATIONS .....	149
VIII. DIRECTIONS OF CHANGES IN THE POLISH FAMILY IN THE PERIOD OF SYSTEM TRANSFORMATION .....	159
1. Blurring a Clear View of the Marriage and the Family .....	159
2. Multiplication of the Forms of Family Life .....	160
a. The Full Family: a Married Couples with Children .....	161
b. Married Couples without Children .....	161
c. The Family with a Single Parent .....	162
d. Cohabitation .....	165
3. Development of Personal Bonds and Partnership Relations in the Family .....	167
IX. LIVING CONDITIONS OF THE POLISH FAMILY IN THE PERIOD OF SYSTEM TRANSFORMATION .....	169
1. Impoverishment of the Average Family .....	170
2. Unfavorable Changes in the Family Infrastructure .....	173
a. Dwelling .....	173
b. Health Services and Rehabilitation .....	175
c. Education and Participation in Culture .....	176
3. Unemployment .....	180
4. Separation to Work Abroad .....	182
5. Consequences of the Decline of Living Conditions of the Family .....	184
X. PROBLEMS OF THE FAMILY WITH MANY CHILDREN .....	189
1. The Scope of Occurance of the Family with Many Children .....	189
2. Categories of the Family with Many Children .....	190
a. The Family with a Single Parent .....	191
b. The Family with Disabled Members .....	192
c. The Young Family .....	193
3. A Social-Material Situation of the Family with Many Children .....	194
a. The Environment of Life of the Family with Many Children .....	194
b. Education of the Parents .....	195

c. The Family with Many Children Poorer than the Poor . . . . .	196
4. The Importance of the Family with Many Children for Polish Society . . . . .	199
a. The Family with Many Children as Demographic Potential of Society . . . . .	199
b. The Family with Many Children as a Factor of Economic Growth . . . . .	201
c. The Family with Many Children as an Environment of Fuller Socialization . . . . .	201
XI. THE SINGLE-PARENT FAMILY . . . . .	203
1. Demographic Characterization . . . . .	203
2. Living Conditions . . . . .	207
3. The Single-Parent Family as an Environment of the Child's Development . . . . .	209
4. The Single-Parent Family and Social Environment . . . . .	214
XII. FAMILY – SOCIETY – STATE . . . . .	215
1. The Family Versus Society . . . . .	216
2. The Family Versus The State . . . . .	222
3. Assistant and Intervening Functions of the State/Society with Respect to the Family . . . . .	226
4. Charges of the State/Society with Respect to the Family . . . . .	227
a. Developing and Respecting of the Family Rights . . . . .	227
b. Equalization of the Family Income . . . . .	229
c. Developing and Improving the Family-oriented Infrastructure . . . . .	231
d. Developing an Atmosphere of Respect Towards Marriage and Family . . . . .	231
Anex . . . . .	235
References . . . . .	241